

Michael Thornley
Aerodromes Standards Inspector,
Transport Canada

Michael Thornley is an Aerodromes Standards Inspector for Transport Canada, based in Ottawa, Ontario. Mike joined Transport Canada this year following a 27 year career as a Canadian Air Force pilot, during which time he flew the Hercules, Airbus and Challenger aircraft in their cargo, personnel and VIP roles. He has also filled numerous project and leadership roles during his career. In his current role Mike is primarily responsible for the implementation of TALPA in Canada.